

Ceftriaxone Injection
Strength	Composition	Therapeutic Segment	Class
1000 mg	Ceftriaxone Sodium USP Eq. to Ceftriaxone	Antibiotics	Cephalosporin 1000mg
Indications: Ceftriaxone is a third generation cephalosporin used for bacterial infections
LRTI, AOM, SSTI, UTI, Uncomplicated gonorrhea, bacterial septicemia, bone and joint, intraabdominal infection, surgical prophylaxis Side-effects: pain, induration and tenderness, rash, eosinophilia, thrombocytosis, leucopenia, diarrhea headache, dizziness, vaginitis, flatulence, dyspepsia, palpitations and epistaxis Precautions: dose adjustment in hepatic dysfunction and significant renal disease, overgrowth of nonsusceptible organisms colitis. Do not use calcium or calcium containing solutions with or within 48 hours of ceftriaxone, pregnancy, lactation Contra-indications: allergy to the cephalosporin class of antibiotics				